

Personal Reflective Teaching Tools

- Learning Logs (Great for students, too!)
- Teaching Logs (Journal sharing)
- Teacher Diary: Purely personal reactions and feelings
- Collegial observations: Invite a colleague to come into your class to collect information about your lesson
- Watching others teach
- Student feedback: Simple questionnaires, surveys
- Cognitive CoachingSM
 - Planning
 - Reflecting
 - Problem-resolving

Personal Reflective Teaching Tools

Audio or video recordings

- Audio recordings
 - How much do you talk?
 - What about?
 - Are instructions and explanations clear?
 - How much time do you allocate to student talk?
 - How do you respond to student talk?
- Video recordings
 - Where do you stand?
 - Who do you speak to?
 - How do you come across to the students?